Fund management comment

March began with an ECB meeting: while the probability of an interest rate cut was still just under 50% at the beginning of the year, it was clear after the meeting at the latest that this might not happen until the middle of the year. As usual, the Council members referred to the dependence on data. The most likely date for the first interest rate cut is currently June. Overall, March was somewhat more favourable compared to the start of the year, with the yield on 2-year German government bonds falling by 5 basis points to close at 2.83%, while risk premiums on European investment-grade corporate bonds narrowed by a further 6bp to 113, while the high-yield index widened by 14bp to 358 for the first time in months. However, this is only attributable to a few individual issuers, risk premiums have fallen across the board here too.

Sector Allocation by GICS Sector distribution by GICS: The Global Industry Classification Standard ("GICS") was developed by and is the exclusive property and a service mark of MSCI Inc. ("MSCI") and Standard & Poor's, a division of the McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P") and is licensed for use by Joh. Berenberg, Gossler & Co. KG. Without limiting any of the foregoing, in no event shall MSCI, S&P, any of their affiliates or any third party involved in making or compiling the GICS or any GICS classifications have any liability for any direct, indirect, special, punitive, consequential or any other damages (including lost profits) even if notified of the possibility of such damages.

BVI method: The charts and tables regarding performance shown here are based on own calculations according to the method developed by the German Investment Funds Association (BVI). They illustrate past performance. Future performance can deviate both positively and negatively from these calculations. Gross performance (BVI method) takes into account all charges at fund level (e.g. management fee), net performance plus the issue surcharge. As no issue surcharge is incurred for this share class the gross performance corresponds to the net performance. Additional charges can arise for individual investors (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Also, fees may be charged for the administration of the safe custody account, which will lower the performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.
