Berenberg Guardian I A

Actively managed multi-asset fund

Investment Strategy

The Berenberg Gurdian is an actively managed absolute return fund. It is aimed at investors seeking return opportunities through interest income, hedging and tactical opportunities, particularly in falling markets. In this way, the fund aims to help investors diversify their equity investments.

The fund combines fundamental and macroeconomic analysis with quantitative models in a discretionary investment approach. The strategy aims to deliver positive returns with low drawdowns and volatility over 12-month periods, a negative correlation to falling equity markets and a low correlation to "normal" equity markets. These objectives meet the needs of investors seeking steady returns, protection during market downturns and the potential for gains when opportunities arise.

Performance

In accordance with the EU regulation "MiFID" (Markets in Financial Instruments Directive), as well as its implementation in national law, information on performance may only be shown if it covers a period of at least 12 months.

Fund management comment

Global stock markets initially performed well in July thanks to a strong reporting season and solid macroeconomic data. The S&P 500 reached new all-time highs, while European indices fluctuated sideways. Towards the end of the month, however, the chaos surrounding the trade war weighed on equity markets. Nevertheless, the VIX reached its lowest level since mid-February at less than 15 points at the end of July. In addition, the put skew (90-100) steepened noticeably from the second half of the month onwards. The Berenberg Guardian posted a slightly negative return in this low-volatility environment. However, the combination of low implied volatility and steep skew allowed us to add not only put flies but also more powerful hedges such as put spreads at low cost, so that the Guardian is currently well positioned for both slight and moderate drawdowns.
