Berenberg Variato I A

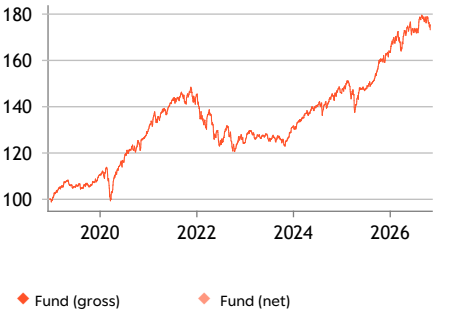

Actively managed multi asset fund

Investment Strategy

Berenberg Variato features an active investment approach without a benchmark, bundling Berenberg's best ideas. Strategic long-term positions in attractive capital markets segments are completed with thematic investments (e.g. megatrends) and opportunistic tactical positions. Investment vehicles are individual securities, mutual funds, ETFs and derivatives. Risk sensitivities are managed via overlay ex post. The target is to achieve attractive returns at the expense of a temporary higher volatility.

Fund management comment

Global financial markets were characterised by high volatility and significant portfolio reallocations in October. A rotation within the equity markets was particularly evident: whilst technology and semiconductor stocks came under pressure, defensive sectors came more into focus. The MSCI World index fell by 0.8% when measured in US dollars, but rose by around 0.8% in euros due to the stronger US dollar. At sector level, technology and telecommunications in particular recorded significant losses. By contrast, the consumer goods and healthcare sectors performed well. Energy stocks delivered the strongest sector performance against the backdrop of a further rise in oil prices. On the government bond markets, yields fell significantly, particularly at the long end of the yield curve. This was driven primarily by growing concerns about the AI sector. Investor caution also increased in the credit markets. EUR and USD investment-grade (IG) spreads widened by around 10 basis points each, whilst the widening was even more pronounced for high-yield bonds. The US dollar appreciated slightly, whilst gold lost just under 7%. In this environment, the Variato managed to limit losses despite the challenging market conditions. This was achieved in particular through balanced diversification across various asset classes and regions, as well as through active hedging of our equity exposure. Within the core portfolio, our gold investment was the main drag on performance, whilst the managed futures strategy and our exposure to a systematic, market-neutral strategy provided support. Our thematic investments in shares of commodity producers and biotechnology companies made a positive contribution to performance, whilst our thematic exposure to technology shares had a negative impact. In the tactical segment, our investments in the semiconductor sector weighed on performance, whilst our exposure to oil shares had a positive impact. Overall, the Variato has continued to maintain its positive performance since the start of the year.

Opportunities:

- Attractive return potential over the medium to long term
- Aboveaverage performance by exploiting investment opportunities across regions and asset classes, focusing on attractive market segments and structural investment themes
- Possible additional returns through active and opportunistic management

Risks

- High volatility of equities, riskier bonds and currencies, price losses possible
- Share value may fall below the purchase price at which the client acquired the share
- No guarantee of success due to active and opportunistic management
- Entering into index and currency futures to manage quotas may increase the risk of loss, at least temporarily

Further details on the opportunities and risks of this fund can be found in the sales prospectus.

BVI method: The charts and tables regarding performance shown here are based on own calculations according to the method developed by the German Investment Funds Association (BVI). They illustrate past performance. Future performance can deviate both positively and negatively from these calculations. Gross performance (BVI method) takes into account all charges at fund level (e.g. management fee), net performance plus the issue surcharge. As no issue surcharge is incurred for this share class the gross performance corresponds to the net performance. Additional charges can arise for individual investors (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Also, fees may be charged for the administration of the safe custody account, which will lower the performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

SFDR: SFDR is short for "Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation". Under the SFDR, financial products must disclose information on how sustainability is taken into account, with the disclosure requirements varying depending on the type of consideration (Article 6, Article 8 or Article 9 SFDR).
