Berenberg International Micro Cap M A

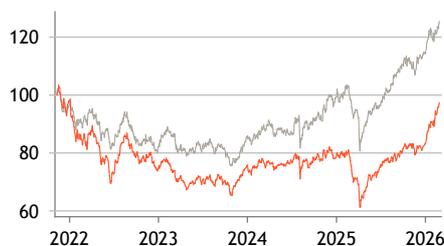

Actively managed equity fund

Investment Strategy

The investment objective of the Fund is long-term capital growth that outperforms the benchmark MSCI World ex Europe Micro Cap Index over a medium to long-term period. The main driver for this is the above-average earnings growth of the selected companies. The strategy is based on a disciplined bottom-up stock selection of attractive smaller companies (market capitalisation up to 1bn EUR) based outside Europe. The decisive criteria are among others end markets with structural growth, high entry barriers and excellent management teams.

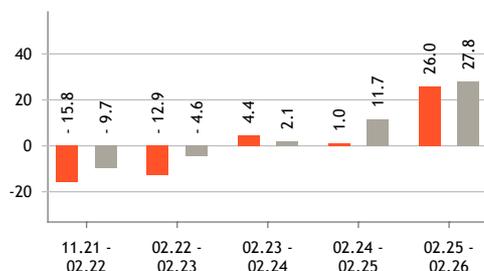

- Growth-oriented fund
- Diversified portfolio of 90-120 stocks
- Use of information inefficiencies due to low coverage
- Long-term investment horizon and low portfolio turnover
- Active approach, i.e. index weights have no influence on individual stock selection

Fund management comment

In February, equity markets showed a solid overall development, albeit with somewhat higher volatility at times after the strong start to the year. This was supported by predominantly robust economic data and largely solid corporate figures for the fourth quarter. In this environment, the Berenberg International Micro Cap was able to beat its benchmark during the reporting month. Performance was driven by precious metals processor Furuya Metal, which benefited from strong demand from the semiconductor and hydrogen industries. In addition, the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange operator recorded rising trading volumes, and Spratt Inc. gained after strong annual figures. On the other hand, IT service provider Computer Direct Group was a drag on performance due to weaker IT spending, as was industrial supplier Rimoni Industries due to low demand. Medical technology manufacturer Electromed also came under pressure after weak order intake.

BVI method: The charts and tables regarding performance shown here are based on own calculations according to the method developed by the German Investment Funds Association (BVI). They illustrate past performance. Future performance can deviate both positively and negatively from these calculations. Gross performance (BVI method) takes into account all charges at fund level (e.g. management fee), net performance plus the issue surcharge. As no issue surcharge is incurred for this share class the gross performance corresponds to the net performance. Additional charges can arise for individual investors (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Also, fees may be charged for the administration of the safe custody account, which will lower the performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

SFDR: SFDR is short for "Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation". Under the SFDR, financial products must disclose information on how sustainability is taken into account, with the disclosure requirements varying depending on the type of consideration (Article 6, Article 8 or Article 9 SFDR).
